ICBC translation requirements

The following list does not include all possible countries and is updated as needed. If your country is not listed, please visit an ICBC driver licensing office.

For some countries and jurisdictions, translations may only be required if your original licence:

- Has non-English characters
- Does not have images of vehicles you're approved to drive
- Is on a piece of paper with written vehicle descriptions

You may still be asked to provide translations for your driver's licence or other documents, even if this list indicates that no translation is required.

Translation requests are done at ICBC's discretion.
