

Community Grants Program application form

Program criteria

Our Community Grants Program helps make a difference in the lives of British Columbians by supporting the road safety and injury recovery / disability support initiatives of community organizations.

Road safety

We consider initiatives that:

- make drivers and roads safer for all road users;
- improve the safety of vulnerable road users, including pedestrians, cyclists and children;
- help young people become responsible drivers;
- prevent auto crime; and/or
- provide resources to seniors to support them in moving to the next phase of their driving experience/career.

Injury recovery / disability support

We consider initiatives that will help our injured customers — and other British Columbians recovering from an injury or living with a disability — to live healthy, active and productive lives through rehabilitation services, support programs or access to information.

Applying for a community grant

Eligibility

To be eligible for grant funding, your initiative must:

- focus on, or enable ICBC's promotion of, road safety or injury recovery / disability support;
- target one or more B.C. communities;
- be planned and delivered from an office in B.C.; and
- benefit a significant number of B.C. residents.

Road safety infrastructure requests: Please contact your municipality and/or the B.C. Ministry of Transportation and Infrastructure, either of which can submit an application to ICBC's Road Improvement Program.

Please note that eligibility does not guarantee a grant, as applications are considered as part of a competitive process.

The following are not eligible for funding:

- for-profit companies
- individuals
- initiatives outside of B.C.
- dry grads — To access road safety resources please connect with the ICBC Road Safety & Community Coordinator for your region
- driver training for individual drivers
- transportation services
- religious or political organizations
- lobbyists or special interest groups

Submitting an application

1. Review the eligibility criteria above to ensure that both your initiative and organization are eligible.
2. Complete the application form starting on page 2. If you have any questions, email community@icbc.com.
 - Responses must be included for all information requested.
 - Incomplete applications will have a lower priority for funding or may be declined as a result of missing information.
 - Consider carefully the specific information you enter into each section.
 - Ensure that primary mandate of organization, primary objectives and major activities are entered into the correct boxes.
3. Email your application to community@icbc.com by Friday, February 21, 2025.
 - When saving and submitting the application form, use the following format: ICBC grant application – Organization name.pdf.
 - Applications must be submitted by email using the PDF application form to be considered.

Road safety

- Makes B.C.'s drivers and roads safer for all road users
- Improves the safety of vulnerable road users, including children, seniors, pedestrians and cyclists
- Helps young people in B.C. become responsible drivers
- Prevents auto crime
- Provides resources to seniors to support them through the process of giving up their driver's licence

Injury recovery and rehabilitation / disability support

- Helps ICBC's injured customers — and other British Columbians recovering from an injury or living with a disability — to live healthy, active and productive lives through rehabilitation services, support programs or access to information
- Note: The initiative must be accessible by, but need not be exclusive to, British Columbians injured in a motor vehicle crash. (e.g. A sports concussion rehab program would be ineligible, but a general concussion rehab program, treating injuries from motor vehicle crashes, sports and other causes, would be eligible.)

Other

- Does not align with road safety or injury recovery / disability support
